

Contents

Freddie Rokem	1	Editorial
Erika Fischer-Lichte	3	Theatre as a Festive Event: Performance as Social Utopia
Dror Harari	17	Performing Homage: Towards a New Order of Parody
Yoseph Milman	35	Reality as an Uncompleted Dramatic Text: Pirandello's Poetics and Avraham Raz's Mr. Israel Shefi's Independence Night
Liisa Byckling	53	Michael Chekhov's Production of Twelfth Night at the Habimah Theatre
Nicoletta Caputo	75	Performing the Passions: David Garrick and Edmund Kean in King Richard III
Omry Smith	101	The Most Lamentable Tragedy and Most Late Unification Indeed of Res and Verba: Words and Matter in Shakespeare's King Lear
Martin Orkin	123	"Will you rhyme upon't,/And vent it for a mock'ry?": Land, Narrativity, Historiography in William Shakespeare's Cymbeline and in Michael Drayton's Poly-Olbion
Hanna Scolnicov	139	Stripping as Gesture
	153	Contributors